L'OREAL- UNESCO FOR WOMEN IN SCIENCE
Slovakia - talent programme
2026 EDITION

Please carefully read the eligibility criteria. Some restrictions apply.

1. Introduction

Created in 2016, the L'Oréal-UNESCO For Women in Science, Slovakia - talent program aim to promote young women's participation in science. The program identifies and rewards talented young female researchers in Formal sciences such as Information Technology and Information Science and Mathematics; Life and environmental sciences such as Biological, Clinical, Basic Medical and Health Sciences, Physical Sciences and Engineering Sciences and Technology (See attached the document with disciplines.).

The 10th year of the unique project "For Women in Science" sponsored by The L'Oréal Česká republika, branch L'Oréal Slovensko and supported by Slovak commission of UNESCO, Slovak academy of Science (SAS), Slovak Organization for Research and Development activities (SOVVA) is open.

Applications can be submitted by female Slovak scientists (or foreign nationality but demonstrably working in Slovak science or doing research in an institution in Slovakia for at least one year).

The jury will select three winners and award 7.000 EUR each. All the required information, including the entry form, is available on www.forwomeninscience.com.

Do not hesitate and apply because:
The world needs science and science needs women!

2. Eligibility Criteria

Eligibility criteria for the scientists participating in the project:

Doctoral degree in a doctoral study programme in Formal sciences such as Information Technology and Information Science and Mathematics; Life and environmental sciences such as Biological, Clinical, Basic Medical and Health Sciences; Physical Sciences and Engineering Sciences and Technology (see list in annex).

- Relevant research to be implemented in Slovakia.
- The award of 7.000 EUR to be used to support research in Slovakia.
- Applicants limit of age is 40 years old (including).
